

SEN Information Report 2020-21

Question	School response
How does the school know if children need extra help? What should a parent do if they think their child may have special needs?	All pupils at Oaklands have an Education Healthcare Plan (EHCP) indicating a severe learning difficulty, a profound and multiple learning difficulty or autism. In 2020-21 in our New Oaks primary provision caters for nursery aged and reception aged children in our Little Oaks unit, and for children in year 1-3. Year 4-6 are not yet open. High Oaks Secondary caters for students aged 11-19 provision. All pupils at Oaklands School do have special needs as identified in their EHCP. Parents can contact school with any concern at any time. Formal opportunities are provided at parent's evenings and through the annual review process.
How will school staff support a child? Who will oversee, plan work with children and parents? How often will this happen?	Each pupil has an Individual Learning Plan which indicates the support and approaches needed by each child. Additionally, many pupils have personal care plans, medical care plans, manual handling plans, Personal evacuation plans, behaviour plans/risk assessments and programmes designed by occupational, physiotherapy and speech and language therapists. Some pupils have advice plans provided by educational psychology where that advice has been sought by the school. Staff support pupils as indicated in all of the plans and programmes that are relevant to that pupil. The class teacher and subject teachers plan work for children in consultation with classroom teams, therapists and parents. The planning and review process is ongoing. Curriculum planning takes place in termly or half termly modules. Individual Education Plans are reviewed termly with the involvement of parents, and, where appropriate, the child. Therapy reports indicate the frequency of programme review and quantify the

Who will explain to parents what is happening for the child?	direct input each pupil needs. Requests to update EHCPs accordingly are made at annual review meetings. The class teacher is the main point of contact for parents. The Assistant Heads also play a central role in family liaison, especially where families need or request more support.
How will the curriculum be matched to a child's needs? What is the schools approach to differentiation?	All learning at Oaklands is planned individually for pupils with individual targets.
How will both the school and parent know how a child is doing? How will the school support parents to help their child's learning? When will parents be able to discuss a child's progress? How will the child be involved in discussions around their education and special educational provision?	The School and parent will know how a child is progressing through; ongoing continuous assessment and evidence collection recorded on SOLAR software and compared with similar schools using the Government's progression guidance. Formal reporting to parent is undertaken at parent's evenings and annual review reports and meetings. There is more regular (at least weekly) contact in home communication books and, if needed, by telephone. In addition to liaison with class teams Oaklands provides a parent support service including training events for parents. At parents evenings, at review meetings and by appointment with class teachers. Children are given feedback on their progress in every lesson. They receive merit cards throughout the year when they make significant progress. There are "good work" assemblies regularly. Children are also included in their review meetings and within their ability take part by giving a presentation showing their progress and report on their favourite activities and what they would like to learn next. Where children are not able to express their own opinions their preferences are taken into account in planning for them.

What support will there be for a child's overall well-being? Pastoral, medical, social emotional in and out of school?	Pupils are taught in very small class groups of between 8 and 10 pupils, depending on the needs of pupils. Each class has a teacher and either 2 or 3 assistants who provide very close support and personal care to pupils. If the usual class pupil staff ratio is not adequate for an individual pupil and application will be made to the Local Authority for additional funding to provide 1:1 support from an appropriately skilled member of staff. The school is allocated a full time healthcare assistant by Hounslow and Richmond trust m who provides care to pupils on the CCG caseload. A qualified nurse for the CCG team is expected to start attending weekly from September 2020. We also have access to a school nurse. Some medical care may be delivered by classroom support staff where this limits the need for them to miss classroom learning. If medical care is delivered by classroom staff they will have received appropriate training from health staff and there is always a member of the health team on site. Our PSHCE curriculum addresses topics relevant to pupils' social and emotional development. Where families are experiencing particular difficulties outside school Oaklands has a member of staff who provides advice and support to families through a drop in and family support service. Where this service is not enough to support the pupil we can make referrals to either the Local Authority educational psychology service, to social care or, if required, to CAMHS.
What specialist services and expertise are available or accessed by the school?	Specialist therapy services are commissioned to the school by the Local Authority. In 2020-21 the quantity of therapy being provided to Oaklands has been recognised as falling short of the identified need in both SALT (45% short) and Occupational Therapy (39% short) This is currently under review by the Local Authority. For speech and language therapy, physiotherapy and occupational therapy pupils will receive a service if the need is indicated in their Education Healthcare Plan. Most pupils with therapies in their plan receive a full assessment and a programme which will be delivered mainly by class teams. Therapists themselves assess when direct therapy is needed and for how long. In 2020-21 students will not receive the quantity of therapy in their EHCP.

Any shortfall in the quantity of therapy or in delivery of therapy is monitored by the Head Teacher and reported to the Commissioners.

This is done through tutorial work with the child and through annual review meetings.
How do Governors monitor attainment and progress of SEN pupils ensuring their needs are met by the school?	Governors are provided with performance data regularly at both committee meetings and full Governing Body meetings. Governors also have access to raise online although we acknowledge that this system does not accurately reflect the progress made by learners who have severe learning difficulties.

	Governors make regular visits to school and carry out lesson observations every term. Governors give regular feedback following their visits or scrutiny of school information. They make suggestions which are actioned and they check on progress and changes made.
